Statutory Instruments, &c. LIST NO. 30 : Friday 18 March 2016

SECTION E

Instruments subject to affirmative resolution procedure

KEY

Bold A notice of motion has been tabled for the approval of the Instrument, and it therefore stands referred to a Delegated Legislation Committee, unless a notice has been given that the instrument shall not so stand referred, or the Instrument is referred to the Scottish or Northern Ireland Grand Committee, or is a draft legislative reform order (underlined).

(a) The Instrument has been referred to the Scottish or Northern Ireland Grand Committee.

A motion for approval stood on the Order of Business for the day before the date of publication of the list.

* The division on a motion for the approval of the Instrument has been deferred to the sitting Wednesday following the date of publication of the list, under Standing Order No. 41A.

(iii) Statutory Instruments laid under s.11 of the Public Bodies Act 2011

Instruments laid under s. 11 of the Public Bodies Act 2011 may not be made by a Minister unless they have been approved by both Houses of Parliament after the expiry of a specified period. Under s.11(4) of the Act, this period is 40 days, beginning with the day on which the instrument is laid before Parliament. Under s.11(5)(a), if either House so resolves within 30 days (beginning with the day on which the instrument is laid before Parliament), the period set under s.11 (4) is extended from 40 to 60 days. Under s.11(5)(b), if a Committee of either House recommends during the 30 day period that the 40 day period be extended to 60 days, the period is extended unless the House to which the recommendation is made resolves within the 30 day period to reject the recommendation. When reckoning the number of days expired under s.11, no account is taken of any time during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which either House is adjourned for more than four days.
